The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

2,952

"Times, of Course"

That's what all the newsboys say when asked which Barre paper sells the best. There is no doubt about it.

The Waterbury Record has the following good word for Barre citizens: Barre city has some excellent examples of self-made men. Men who started in Barre, when it was a small town and have grown right along with it, until now it is a good sized city. It is this class of self made men that have been instrumental in pushing Barre granite, which has made both city and state famous and known the world over.

No better truism has been uttered than that spoken by President Roosevelt at Washington yesterday during the unveiling of the Sherman statue when he said, "The life of duty, not the life of mere ease or pleasure—that is the kind of life which makes the great man as it makes the great nation." This American republic was not founded on the life of ease and pleasure, but rather its foundation is the rugged one of hard work, discomfort and self-denial.

The state of New Hampshire has expended thousands of dollars in the building of a state highway through the White Mountains, but is being repaid in a much larger proportion. There is in this a direct lesson to the state of Vermont. It pays to keep the highways in good condition, if not by state appropriation then by the towns individually. New Hampshire is getting back what she paid out and more, too, in the increase of summer patronage. Her beautiful White Mountains would not be the magnet that they are, for city visitors, were it not that the highways to the various points of interest are kept in good condition. One of the pleasures of a summer's outing in the mountains as elsewhere is the opportunity for travel either by motor car, trolley or single team. The strong reason why New Hampshire retains her summer patronage and, in fact, increases it, is because the highways are kept in more than passable shape.

This New Hampshire people know, and that's the reason the state legislature is willing to lay out considerable sums of money, which expenditure in the midst of the mountains, might at first thought seem an utter waste. The work of completing the roads has been under way this summer but owing to the scarcity of help it was not finished. However it will be taken up again next summer, and in addition to the appropriations already made it is expected that the next legislature will decide to make a still further outlay besides reimbursing private individuals. When the whole work is done New Hampshire will have a stretch of fine state highway covering the principal points in the White Mountains, made at a considerable cost to be sure, but sure to be paid back many fold.

HINTS FOR HEALTH.

A cold in the head may be greatly relieved by plunging the nostrils with cotton wool soaked in glycerin.

A soft linen cloth which is employed for no other purpose is better to use when bathing the eyes than a sponge.

To ease soft corns rub a little oil of peppermint over them. A piece of tissue paper placed between the toes and renewed every day will frequently cure a soft corn.

The possessors of dry scalps should know that they are more liable to early grayness than their friends with greasy hair, but that this is quite preventable by regularly feeding the hair with the oil it lacks.

The eyes should be bathed every night before retiring to remove any dust that might have gathered on the lids during the day. Cold water should be used, although lukewarm water is good occasionally.

New Fuse For the Navy.

The navy department has recently placed a contract with a Pittsburg man for the manufacture of 50,000 fuses for shells, says the Philadelphia Press. This fuse, or exploding device, was invented and developed by J. B. Semple of Pittsburg. It is arranged so that the shell cannot be exploded by an accidental fall of even fifty feet, yet when fired from the gun the fuse becomes "armed" and is then so sensitive that the shell will burst on striking light resistance, such as a rope or the branch of a tree.

Good clothes cost more at first than cheap clothing, but they wear and retain their shape three times as long. If you've "made your pile" you can afford to wear anything, but if your "future is in front" it behooves you to present a good appearance. Sometimes an expensive scarf will brace up a man's whole appearance.

ABOUT THE STATE.

Items of Interest Gleaned From Our Exchanges.

Charles Densmore, aged 53, dropped dead of apoplexy at Lyndonville Monday while at his work in the railroad shop.

A freak of nature in the shape of a calf with two heads, two necks, three backbones and two tails was born in Glover recently.

Will Jerome of West Glover, while out gunning October 6, rested the muzzle of his gun on his foot and the gun was discharged causing a badly shattered foot.

Capt. Harry B. Chamberlain, U. S. A., has arrived in San Francisco after the completion of a tour of duty in the Philippines and is expected to make a visit at his home in Fairlee in a few days.

F. J. Webster, who has been in the employ of the Vermont Marble Co. at Proctor for the last two years, has won a scholarship at the University of Pennsylvania and has entered upon the study of medicine in that institution.

Homor McDuffee died Monday at Lyndonville, his death being caused by a blow from a waterspout which he received Saturday while standing on top of a car. He was a freight brakeman. He seemed to suffer no great inconvenience until Monday morning, when he was taken violently worse and died in a few hours.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

The Fuel Supply.
The melancholy autumn days return,
And many an erstwhile gay and festive soul
Who seemed in summer to have cash to burn
Is worrying now about the price of coal.

A Hummer.
Cyrus Townsend Brady has a friend who had been to visit a young married couple.

"Can Toni's wife sew?" inquired Mr. Brady.
"I didn't find that out," replied his friend, "but she can rip and tear all right."—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Tie Up on the Road.

—New York Times.

When the Woods Are Turnin' Brown.
Lots of folks have left the country,
'They have hurried into town,
For the days are growin' shorter,
And the woods are turnin' brown.
They can't see no beauty in it;
Those town folks are blind as a bat,
When they'd rather have the city
Than the woods as looks like that.

I jest love them giant oak trees
With their arms a-hangin' down,
And the acorns droppin' droppin',
As the woods are turnin' brown,
And the crows among the branches
Callin' out from tree to tree,
Make me wonder if they're cawin'
To each other about me.

Now there ain't no use a-sayin'
That all nature wears a frown,
Jest because the grass is yellin'
And the trees are turnin' brown,
No such thing; they're only smilin';
'Tis their way to sing a song,
'Cause they've kept the birds and flowers
In their shade all summer long.

I have walked through half the country,
But there's nothin' I have found
Quite so comfortin' and restful
As the woods a-turnin' brown.
I've grown old within their shadow,
Old and partly nigh as gray,
But there's nothin' that I know of
That's as dear to me as they.

Alabrieve, 2:10, is now the fastest of Elyria's sixty standard trotters.

Little Fred, who recently paced to a record of 2:09, is of unknown breeding.

Barney Oldfield, the American auto racing champion, is to retire from active competition this winter.

Jimmy Ryan again is mentioned as the possible successor to Pat Donovan as manager of the St. Louis Nationals.

Moriarty, the Chicago Nationals' new outfielder, is said to have the strongest throwing arm in the National league.

Hank Griffin has refused to meet Jack Johnson in San Francisco. He has not forgotten the last whipping he got from Johnson.

Benny Yanger may be matched to meet Ben Jordan now that Young Corbett has failed to come to terms with the English champion.

Jim Corbett says that Bob Fitzsimmons is "all in," but a prominent sport said the other day that Corbett's ten rounds with Champion Jim Jeffries did not "dope" with Lanky Bob's seven.

SANCTUM SOLILOQUIES.

At the head of modern martyrs stands the boy baby in a family of girls.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

An Ohio man who resigned a post-mastership has been adjudged insane. His attorney put up no defense.—Denver Post.

The Allegan man who eloped with his mother-in-law should be punished if for nothing else than the violation of our most cherished traditions.—Detroit Journal.

Emperor Wilhelm and Emperor Franz Josef kissed each other three times when they met. There are a lot of drawbacks about the business of being a monarch.—Indianapolis Journal.

Were they not vouchered for by competent and serious minded astronomers, one might suspect that the four little comets which have been discovered hovering about the Milky Way are being brought up on the bottle.—Boston Transcript.

THE ROYAL BOX.

The German kaiser's daughter is taking a course in cooking.

The empress dowager of China, one of the most remarkable women of the age, is ill, and the doctors say she cannot live a year.

King Alfonso of Spain recently distinguished himself by shooting a ferocious bull stamped from a herd that was being driven through the streets of Madrid.

The Prince of Monaco, on board his yacht Princess Alice, has undertaken an expedition to ascertain the cause of the death of sardines along the Brittany coast.

Queen Alexandra has a favorite teapot which is often in use when the queen is at Sandringham. It is exceedingly curious, very old and is said to be of priceless value. The teapot is in the shape of a stout Dutchman sitting astride a barrel of wine.
